

HISTORIC ST. MARY'S CITY

The Terra Mariae Society is a unique educational opportunity striving to enrich and encourage young minds.

STUDENTS WILL:

- Gain a hands-on understanding of Maryland and 17th-century history.
- Work in costume alongside Historic St. Mary's City staff at the Godiah Spray Tobacco Plantation.
- Assist in the care and maintenance of the Plantation pigs, chickens, and cows.
- Sharpen their public speaking skills and gain confidence
- Enhance creative writing skills
- Learn important research skills

What Parents Are Saying About the Program:

"The program was exceptionally well organized from the beginning, and the requirements ...met the standards for our son's history curriculum in our homeschool program. You helped make my job easy!"

"... learned much about Maryland and about doing work enthusiastically. This program supplemented our homeschool program of study very well...Our son, being required to go through the mechanics of interviewing for this position and writing a report on direct experiences, learned aspects of working life normally introduced ...at an older age."

YOUR CHILD CAN LEARN HISTORY AND GAIN CONFIDENCE!
